

*You are the unconditioned spirit trapped in conditions, like the sun in eclipse.
-Rumi*

Personal Wish List:

Congratulations, you've made it! We are aware that getting here required a wonderful commitment from you.

BioSync sessions will deepen and enrich every facet of your life. Yet, even with all the information and support we've assembled, the quality of your experience will depend on only one person: You! The whole process really begins with you making the decision now to do whatever it takes to raise your life to a new level.

So, commit yourself to the highest possible standard, in being flexible and in giving yourself the freedom to learn, explore, grow and change.

Please write down your personal Wish List. Go on and dream a little. Have fun with it.
