

Mentor/Apprentice Program™

Moving from Practitioner to Apprentice to Instructor

Co-teaching, support and mentoring is the next critical phase as you log the teaching hours (75 hour minimum) that are required to become a Certified BioSync Barefoot™ Instructor.

Mentor/Apprentice™ Program for BioSync Barefoot™

Attaining your BioSync Instructor Training through the Mentor/Apprentice™ Program is the perfect start to a successful journey as a certified BioSync teacher. But it's just the beginning. The BioSync Mentor/Apprentice™ Program will help to translate all of the knowledge and private practice experience you've gained and help you understand how to apply it in the classroom.

Co-teaching support and mentoring is the next critical phase as you log the teaching hours (75 hour minimum) that are required to become a Certified BioSync Barefoot™ Instructor. Private practice is one thing, but the chance to develop as an instructor with BioSync Co-Founder, Leah Lamm, acting as the mentor/co-teacher is invaluable. This program is designed to develop and/or broaden your existing teaching skills. The program will crystallize the practical applications of moving from practitioner to apprentice to teacher creating a well-rounded BioSync instructor.

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS

The Mentor/Apprentice™ Program for BioSync Barefoot will serve a dual purpose: 1) Developing BioSync Barefoot Instructors through “feet-on teaching”; and 2) Educating and training a whole new generation of BioSync Barefoot practitioners.

An unparalleled opportunity for experiential learning, personal growth, transformation, and acquiring the necessary skills for a successful BioSync teaching career.

The Apprentice will provide the students and act as lead teacher. Having taught along side Mark Lamm for the last 15 years, Leah will continue to embrace her unique role and act as mentor/co-teacher. The BioSync Research Institute will provide the manual(s), licensing and certificates.

This program offers an unparalleled opportunity for experiential learning, personal growth, transformation, and acquiring the necessary skills for a successful BioSync teaching career.

Prior to the first workshop a two day pre-workshop intensive will be taught. In this pre-workshop, the top ten skills for teaching will be covered as well as the leadership skills necessary to successfully manage classroom dynamics and student personalities. A step by step curriculum outlining the entire workshop from the opening circle to the closing circle will be covered including the review and learning sequences that make learning fun and easy for the student.

There is a 4 student minimum and 8 student maximum class size. This makes the revenue share and workshop related expenses financially feasible.*

* Please see spreadsheet for more detailed information.

SUMMARY

In order to become a BioSync Barefoot™ Certified Instructor you must:

Together, we will nurture and mentor a whole new generation of BioSync practitioners who will carry on Mark's work.

1. Be a BioSync Practitioner or Consultant in Good Standing with the BioSync Research Institute.
2. Carry professional liability insurance to cover both private practice and teaching, and provide proof of such prior to conducting workshops and with the annual renewal.
3. Successfully complete the Mentor/Apprentice™ Program by organizing and teaching a minimum of 3 workshops with a minimum of 4 students in each workshop.
4. Sign and adhere to all Apprentice/Instructor contracts; Apprentice/Instructor legal agreements; and, all Apprentice/Instructor responsibilities as covered in the BioSync Teaching Manual.
5. Remain current with your annual BioSync service mark and licensing fees

This is the only teaching certification program authorized by the BioSync Research Institute.

Mark Lamm developed and positioned the BioSync therapy modalities to become the preeminent force within the somatic field, the integrative medicine movement and the human potential movement.

Now, we will nurture and mentor a whole new generation of BioSync practitioners who will carry on Mark's work.

The BioSync Research Institute is especially excited to open up additional streams of income for BioSync practitioners. And, in the future, you will be able to continue your BioSync education with more teacher training in iCore™, BioSync Assisted Yoga™ and BioSync MatWork™.

All terms subject to change at BioSync Research Institute discretion.